

Break the fake - Canada's Oldham wins slopestyle bronze in her first world championships.

Step 1: I went on to <https://www.tsn.ca/> and did a search for skiing, and this is one of the most recent articles that came up in my search.

Step 2: The second step that I took to see if this article was true or false was just to do a quick goggle search and see what comes up.

The image shows a screenshot of a Bing search results page. The search query is "Canada's Oldham wins slopestyle bronze in her first world champion". The results show several news articles from various sources, including The Globe and Mail, Sportsnet, Stalberttoday.ca, Timescolonist.com, Winnipeg Free Press, and The Suburban. The articles all report on Canada's Megan Oldham winning a bronze medal in slopestyle skiing at the World Championships. The search results are displayed in a grid format with small thumbnail images and text snippets for each article.

Step 3: The third step I took to double check this article was I did a search on Wikipedia and Google for the “Canadian Free Press”.

The image shows two screenshots. On the left is a Wikipedia search results page for "Canadian free press". The search bar contains "Canadian free press" and the search button is highlighted. Below the search bar, there are three search results listed:

- The London Free Press: of any newspaper in Southwestern Ontario. The London Free Press began as the Canadian Free Press, founded by William Sutherland. It first began printing 7 KB (646 words) - 19:05, 31 December 2020
- Free press: Free press or Free Press may refer to: Freedom of the press, legal protections for public communications media Free Press (organization), a USA media 2 KB (274 words) - 13:32, 13 April 2020
- Winnipeg Free Press: Winnipeg Free Press (or WFP; founded as the Manitoba Free Press) is a daily (excluding Sunday) broadsheet newspaper in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. It provides 10 KB (895 words) - 08:57, 29 November 2020

On the right is a screenshot of the Canada Free Press website. The header features the logo "Canada Free Press" and the slogan "Because without America, there is no free world." Below the header is a navigation menu with links for Home, Cover, America, Videos, Canada, World, Security, News, Energy, and Lifestyles. A prominent banner reads "WhatRinger.com Far Better Than Drudge". The main content area features an article titled "Where the Democrat Election Victory Leaves the Free West" by Jud McLeod. The article text reads: "As for where the Democrat victory of Election 2020 left the Free West, the Democrats are no longer looking for the Kill Switch because they've finally found it". To the right of the article is an advertisement for "AI Advertising Worldwide Reach" with the text "Start your campaign and spend wise while reaching millions of users Worldwide!".

Step 4: Another way that I used to double check this article was I used the website Snopes.com, and nothing came up with I am not sure why, but I think that I have collected enough information from other places so its ok.

The image shows a screenshot of the Snopes.com website. The search bar contains the text "Canada's Oldham wins slopestyle bronze in her first world championships." and the search button is highlighted. Below the search bar, there is a navigation menu with links for Become a Member, Submit a Topic, Shop, Latest, Top, Fact Checks, Collections, News, Archives, and Randomizer. The main content area features an advertisement for "DrSockShop.com" with the text "New sock is helping millions of seniors turn back the clock on their aging, aching feet. If you have foot pain, you need to read this." Below the advertisement is a "No results for:" section with the search text "Canada's Oldham wins slopestyle bronze in her first world championships." and a search button. The text below the search bar reads: "Your search did not yield any results. Your search terms may need to be revised, or we have not written an article on that topic. One of the best tips for locating articles on our site is to avoid the use of searches that are too lengthy or specific. Therefore, the optimal search strategy is to avoid pasting specific phrases from items (such as subject lines and opening sentences) into our". To the right of the "No results for:" section is a video player showing a man sitting at a desk with a laptop.

Step 5: Finally, I did a search for TSN (which is the website I found the original article on) on Wikipedia and Goggle.
